

CHANGING GEOPOLITICS & THE EMERGING ORDER OF THE MIDDLE EAST:

Challenges Ahead,
What the Future Holds

The NUS Middle East Institute is pleased to work alongside the Istanbul Policy Center and the Sasakawa Peace Foundation in jointly-organizing an international conference on the Middle East. The full-day roundtable conference will see the participation of experts across the globe from Turkey to Malaysia to Japan. In the context of the contemporary developments of the Middle East, the conference speakers and invited discussants will deliberate and analyze the role of the Gulf, the shifting geopolitical strategies of particular nations, as well as the evolution of a new regional order at the macro level.
