DR. ANDREW BALDWIN (DURHAM UNIVERSITY, UK)

Andrew Baldwin is a senior lecturer in the Department of Geography, Durham University (UK). He received his PhD from Carleton University in 2006. Dr. Baldwin previously held appointments at the University of Manchester and at Queens University in Kingston, Ontario. His research examines the intersections of race and nature through two areas of investigation: climate change and migration; and geographies of nature and race.

Between 2012 and 2016 he coordinated COST Action IS1101 Climate Change and Migration: Knowledge, Law and Policy, and Theory. Aside from numerous academic publications in top-tier outlets, Dr. Baldwin is the editor of two recent books, Life Adrift: Climate change, Migration, Critique (Rowman and Littlefield, 2017) with Giovanni Bettini and New Issues in Climate Change and Migration: Labour, Remittances, Gender (Routledge, 2017) with Giovanna Gioli.
